The mission of The World Schools is to educate, nurture and enhance the development of the 'whole' child from birth through grade six, while supporting and enriching the whole family. Now they can expand their mission to include their community.

Students at World Elementary, Grades 4, 5, and 6 participated in a reading program "Care Where You Are" sweepstakes by Scholastic Book Clubs. The students had to read more than 100 books and then enter the sweepstakes. They were one of the luck 200 schools through the United States to receive 500 books, which they could then donate to local organizations within their city. The 29 members of the Student Council wanted to help their community by donating them to various organizations in the greater Nashua area. The Pediatric Unit at St. Joseph Hospital was one of the recipients receiving a basket full of books for children of all ages. "We are thrilled to have been part of The World Schools' donation of books for our pediatric unit – the books received are for all ages and will certainly help a child enhance their literacy skills and put smiles on all of their faces," states Theresa Small, Nurse Manager of Maternal Child Health Services at St. Joseph Hospital.
