The World Schools Toddlers Celebrate Vietnamese Harvest Festival

On Monday, September 15th toddlers at The World Schools learned about the Mid-Autumn Festival or the Vietnamese Harvest Festival, courtesy of the Nguyen Family. It is Vietnamese folklore that parents were working so hard to prepare for the harvest that they left the children playing by themselves. To make up for lost time, parents would use the Mid-Autumn festival as an opportunity to show their love and appreciation for their children and to spend time with them after the harvest is complete. The Nguyen Family read stories to the toddlers, brought in mooncakes to eat, and also provided their daughter's class with small dragons to take home. The Nguyen family and all of the toddlers concluded the celebration with a lantern parade - great fun was had by all while learning about Vietnamese culture!
